

Species of the Month

San Miguel Savory

Clinopodium chandleri

Jearu

San Miguel Savory

- Perennial shrub
- In the mint family
- Small white flowers
- Blooms March-July

San Miguel Savory

- Narrowly-defined geographic distribution
- Requires specialized habitat and soils
- The majority of the populations can be found in the Santa Ana Mountains and the Santa Rosa Plateau.

Monitoring and Management

- Conserve 201,450 acres of suitable habitat
- Conserve the seven known localities: on the Santa Rosa Plateau and Santa Anna Mountains
- Monitor known populations and search for historic populations

Thank You

Steven Mcsweeney

© Keir Morse - keiriosity.com